

CALL FOR SPONSORSHIP/EXHIBITORS

The 17th International Conference on Magnetic Resonance Microscopy (ICMRM 2023)

The aim of the International Conference on Magnetic Resonance Microscopy (ICMRM) is to promote recent advancements in high-resolution, spatially resolved magnetic resonance methods and applications. The first ICMRM was held in 1991 in Heidelberg and was originally known as the "Heidelberg Conference". Currently, ICMRM is organized biannually by the Division of Spatially Resolved Magnetic Resonance of the AMPERE Society.

The 17th ICMRM will be held from 27-31 Aug. 2023 in Singapore, fully physical. The official website can be found at <http://icmrm2023.sciencesconf.org/>. The Organizing Committee would like to invite your organization to support this event. The sponsors and exhibitors will have opportunities to interact with academic researchers, industrial developers, and top-notch postgraduate students in research fields. Your participation will increase your organization's visibility in the magnetic resonance microscopy community and also help the conference organizers to provide a more exciting program.
